

FALLEN

(Music: nangoo / DT - Lyrics: DT / nangoo)

It might be that it is what I dreamed about
I saw something like a shining light in clouds
Maybe an illusion
A strange confusion
What I found
Suddenly before my eyes
It fell down to the ground

As I came closer there was a thin voice in my ear
It talked to me with soothing sound:
"You need not fear"
I bent over this being
And looked into his eyes
At once I understood
That it will never die

In sounds of spring and on summer morns
In autumn rain and in winter storms
He's still alive
I still feel the heat
Running through him with lightning speed

As I awake I thought about, it wasn't gone
I realized life sometimes sucks
But it goes on
If you fall stand up
You know it won't stop
Even if it hurts like hell
'Cause one day it's over...
